- General Shale
- Distribution

Established in 1928, General Shale has expanded from a local brick manufacturer to become the largest in North America. Designed to meet customers wherever they are, our new regional brand strategy services more customers than ever before through meaningful industry associations and partners. General Shale's mission is to remain the preferred provider of sustainable building solutions in North America. Our products combine enduring quality, energy efficiency, and natural beauty and are supported by modern, forward-thinking innovation.
